About Krokidas & Bluestein LLP

We have a long history of representing schools, social service agencies, quasipublic institutions, and other entities engaged in educational services in Massachusetts. Because of our extensive experience with non-profits and government entities, we are able to offer schools and other educational organizations expert advice in the full range of compliance, governance, transactional, labor and other issues of concern.

We assist charter and private schools, day care centers, schools for children with disabilities and educational management organizations in fulfilling their missions. We represent lenders in education facility financing transactions. We also work with school boards, private foundations and regional school associations.
